

Which document types can you translate?

In addition to hardcopy documents, we can work with the following electronic file formats:

- Word
- Excel
- PowerPoint
- html
- xml
- PDF
- QuarkXPress
- Adobe InDesign

How do I proceed?

In the first instance, please contact your local chamber who will advise you and arrange for a quotation. Once the quotation is signed off the job is undertaken and completed as part of the Chamber Translation Services commercial arrangement, so you benefit from the competitive rates and high quality service level negotiated on your behalf.

Contact Information

Chambers Ireland
17 Merrion Square, Dublin 2
Tel: +353 1 400 4300
Email: translations@chambers.ie
Fax: +353 1 661 2811
www.chambertranslations.ie

Chamber Translation Services

Cost Effective Translations You Can Trust

Successful organisations today understand the importance of effective communication. To communicate effectively to an international audience you need to be able to rely on an experienced translation team that understand both business and translations.

Chamber Translation Services offers multi-lingual translation services and localisation solutions for all your chamber member translation requirements. Through our translation partner we offer chamber members access to a global team of localisation experts who will assist you in successfully communicating with your local end-users. Chamber Translation Services has been designed to offer flexibility and choice with the primary objective of enabling you communicate cost effectively with your international target audience – be they customers overseas or foreign national staff working here in Ireland.

Whether your audience consists of customers or employees, successfully delivering your message on a global scale is about much more than mere multilingual translation. You must consider culture, context, and channel. What you say is either reinforced or discredited by how you say it.

What is your audience hearing?

Our translation partner works with a team of over 750 qualified native speaker translators who will work with you and your content to ensure your message is effectively delivered to its target audience in the target language.

Translators are assigned to projects based on relevant qualifications in a specialist subject and at least two years' experience as translators. Our translators are experienced in the following areas:

- general content
- business
- financial
- health and safety
- legal
- technology
- marketing
- medical and pharmaceutical
- software localisation

Frequently Asked Questions

What service does Chamber Translations provide to corporate clients?

Our professional full service offering to corporates ensures native speakers with specialist subject matter expertise are assigned to each and every assignment. We provide a full range of services including voiceovers and publication of translated materials all under one roof.

Which languages do you translate?

Our current database of over 750 experienced professional translators allows us to provide translations in 139 languages, ranging from Afar to Zulu.

What are your rates?

Chamber Translation Services offers cost effective translation services to local chamber members who benefit from pricing negotiated by Chambers Ireland at national level.

How can I get a quotation?

For a free quotation, please contact your local chamber providing them with

- Document format e.g. word / excel / html / pdf
- Word Count (if known)
- Target Language(s)
- Turnaround required
- Your email and telephone contact details

If you would like to discuss a project in more detail with one of our translation managers please contact us through your local chamber.

How can I be sure my translations are accurate?

Our translation partner prides itself on its strict quality procedures. Our team members are experienced professional translators who translate into their native language. Translators with expertise in specific subject areas are assigned to specialised projects. All translations are independently proofread to ensure their accuracy and consistency.